FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Online Ordering Now Available for the Flo-Mate Open Channel Flow Meter

December 15, 2008 - Hach Company (Loveland, CO) is pleased to announce that the Marsh-McBirney Flo-Mate Portable Open Channel Flow Meter can now be purchased online (domestic orders only) at hach.com. The Flo-Mate electromagnetic flow velocity meter provides instantaneous readout of velocity in rivers, streams, sewers, and is ideal for the calibration of weirs, flumes and other primary devices. The meter is a direct replacement for USGS type mechanical meters. Designed for rugged field use, the battery operated meter is lightweight, water resistant, and has a data storage and recall feature.

Online ordering provides customers with a quick and convenient method for order placement that is available 24/7. Meter specifications, features, and accessories are provided to assist with their easy online ordering.

To place an order, visit hach.com and enter keyword flo-mate.
